To Mason,

We have been informed that recently you gave blood. We can be fairly confident that the lack of blood means a lack of oxygen, and as such your thinking has not been as clear as it used to be. This is a considerable sacrifice, as you are an analyst. You are paid and told your purpose to think, and yet you reduced your ability to think in an act of humanitarian assistance.

We cannot be certain if this was "setting an example" or something you felt compelled to do of your own impulses.

Mason, you're a smart man. You know as well as anyone that the only thing you can be certain of, is what you yourself have done. In an investigation, you know where you've been and what you've done. Everyone else, you can not be so sure.

You possibly believe that there is another being that is watching you, and knows what you've done and haven't done. A being that you perhaps believe watches and judges us all.

We are on track to be the third being, the third entity perhaps. We know where you've been, and we do not know all your private acts of honor or insignificance, but we will know if or when it's time to damn you.

EDIT:

We were just informed that you had resolved and stabilized the situation in Benin, even after you had made a "faux pas" among the Muslim northerners.

EDIT 2:

We know you've been to the borders of Nigeria and Chad, we also know you've been to Chad for two whole days.

You better not be covering up something they did Mason. Even if you don't judge yourself, or believe in the second entity, but we exist Mason..... And we are watching you, judging you even.

Please Be Advised,

Only a C4 system or ARASI can get past your own C4 system, and only a comparable or better system can "hold off" such a system.

You're not stupid Mason, you're the top of your field.

Think Mason, think.
